

Local Food for Every Table 2025 Impact Report

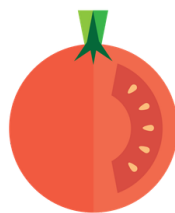

Thank you for Finnegans' support for The Food Group's Local Food for Every Table (LFET) initiative since 2010. Year after year, you provide Minnesota's diverse farmers with market opportunities while at the same time make locally-grown, fresh produce accessible to food shelf shoppers experiencing hunger. We are so grateful for your continued support and are pleased to share some highlights from the 2025 growing season.

Supporting Growers

Pictured above - Big River Farms grower, Manela, proudly stands in front of her field. A total of 16 different farm teams were supported by LFET through market support this season. Finnegans' support was combined with other funding to result in farmer sales of $29,000! 7 farms at Big River Farms, 2 farms at TFG's Big Lake Agrisolar site, and 7 independent farms in greater Minnesota were supported as a part of this project.

The year in numbers

Nearly 13,000 pounds of local produce was purchased from farmers and distributed through 17 food shelf partners this year through LFET. That translates to roughly 38,961 servings of produce for low-income community members!

Nutritious Food Access for All

26 varieties of produce were made available to food shelf shoppers via the LFET program, including summer squash, onions, bok choy, slicing tomatoes, and tomatillos, among others. Families like the one pictured above were able to access fresh produce that they need and want for their health but is otherwise hard to afford.

Thank You for Caring

2025 was a challenging year for food access in our community, with many federal support programs at risk, grocery prices at all time highs, and food shelf visits still up 3x since pre-pandemic levels. We are grateful to Finnegans for standing with community during this time by supporting diverse growers, like Agnes, pictured left, and providing nutritious food to our neighbors when it was needed most. We hope to continue to grow and build upon our great partnership in 2026. Thank you!
